EVERY GIRL WHO has had aspirations to become a motion picture star has probably sometimes come upon an advertisement that reads after this fashion:

"Be a motion picture performer and earn from $50 to $500 weekly. No experience necessary. Full particulars by mail."

Maybe she has answered it in a burst of enthusiasm, and then in due time found it to be the bait of some so-called school of motion picture acting. She doubtless received an elaborate prospectus, breathing in naive confidence the secrets to the golden El Dorado of the motion picture profession. Things were painted in a brilliant hue, well intended to whet her appetite for a course of instruction, incidentally offered at a moderate tuition fee. And who is to blame for her gullibility? Were not instances, almost without number, cited of women who had succeeded in pictures just as the prospectus promised she would succeed? Undeniably the entire matter had a tone of plausibility. That is the prospectus man's business.

If she took the course, however, she has now profited largely in experience, if not in the art of motion picture acting. She can tell you better than I how empty were the sweet promises of that prospectus. They erected for her a magnificent palace of dreams; but it is shattered now and her pocketbook has suffered, too. Worse still, unless she is a girl of unusual mettle she is broken in spirit. If she had expected less, she might have accomplished more. But she expected too much and the bitter disappointment of it has wrung out the ambition that she once had. That is the reason why the fake school of motion picture acting is such a crime.

However, like many other forms of crime, it continues to flourish. Nearly every city has its fake schools now. It is merely a case of a lot of scoundrels, more or less shrewd in their villainy, trying to capitalize the motion picture craze that has swept the country, and especially the craze, found in some quarters, to become a motion picture actor or actress. Please, my "screen-struck" friends, beware of these prospectuses and their rosy promises. They can bring you nothing but disappointments.

MRS. COULTER'S ART TREASURES TO BE SHIPPED

Within a few days Mrs. Mary J. Coulter's rare collection of etchings, engravings, mezzotints and monotypes in color, which are on exhibit at 1110 Union street, will be packed up and shipped elsewhere. Mrs. Coulter has delivered three lectures at the Library of Hawaii on the history of the treasures in her collection, and is on hand at her studio in Union street to answer the questions of visitors.

The work of many old masters is represented in the collection, among them being Albrecht Duerer, Rembrandt, van Oude and Behan, as well as modern masters, including Jacques Corot, Daubigny, Meryon and Tissot. English masters represented are Watson, Brangwyn, D. Y. Cameron, Mansfield and Pitton. American artists include MacLaughlin, Webster, Haskell, Washburn and Pennell.

Probably the most valuable part of the collection is a proof of a Nocturne of the Venetian set in miniature by James McNeill Whistler. There are also pieces of work by Anders Zorn, the celebrated Swedish etching artist.

REST AND SLEEP FOR THE BABIES

A baby six months old should spend at least 16 hours in sleep, and after that, until the child reaches the school age, one-half of every 24 hours should be devoted to sleep. Young children have not sufficient judgment to be allowed to decide for themselves when to go to bed and what to eat. If they did, they would not need mothers to care for them after they were able to walk. But these children do need mothers who realize their responsibility enough to make an effort to learn what is best for their children. It should be considered even more necessary for a prospective mother to study how to be a mother than it is for a young woman to study to be a teacher or stenographer. The care of babies is too important to be left to tradition and superstition.

When we consider that half the deaths among babies might have been prevented if the mothers of these babies had known how to care for their little ones properly, we realize the importance of every young mother spending a little time in learning something of the science of babyhood. It might be a good plan for every mother or prospective mother to spend an average of half an hour a day reading or studying modern methods of baby welfare.

Even though baby does start to cry he should not be taken up. The mother should investigate to see that he is in a comfortable position, that his clothes are dry and no pins disturbing him. She may give him a drink of cool water, then she should gently but firmly give him to understand that he will not be taken up. Babies understand much more than we realize at times. It does not take a baby long to understand whether he can gain his desires by crying. It takes a very few hours to "spoil a baby" so that he will demand constant attention.—Woman's World for April.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! 25 CENT BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

Every Bit of Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out

Try This! Your Hair Appears Glossy, Abundant, Wavy and Beautiful

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on so life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.—Adv.

Four midshipmen were dismissed from the Naval Academy, three for drinking and one for gross disobedience.

The Episcopal diocese of New York grew 5 per cent. last year, and now numbers 93,424 communicants with 35,000 more in Brooklyn and Queens.
